

Andy Rogers

ajr64@leicester.ac.uk

Phone: +447403788875

GitHub:

LinkedIn:

Education

0.1.1 Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Archaeology

University of Leicester, Leicester, UK 2020 - ongoing

0.1.2 Master of Studies (MSt) in Archaeology

St. Peter's College, University of Oxford, Oxford, UK 2017 - 2018

0.1.3 Bachelor of Arts with a Year Abroad (BA) in Archaeology

University of Leicester, Leicester, UK 2013 - 2017

Experience

0.2.1 Administrative Support

Sangha Properties, Leicester, UK 2025 - ongoing

- Role supporting a property manager/developer with generating inventory reports pre- and post-occupancy. Required photography and the generation of reports using the Inventory Hive software and service.

0.2.2 Special Educational Needs Learning Support Assistant

Progress Teachers, Castle Donington, UK 2024

- Two months role as a SEN LSA in a secondary school in Loughborough. Focused on 1:1 support with pupils with Special Educational Needs.

0.2.3 Graduate Tutor

School of Archaeology and Ancient History, University of Leicester, UK 2022-2023

- Full academic year teaching role delivering tutorials to first and second year undergraduates in Archaeology. Taught 3 modules, comprising: World Archaeology AD; Archaeology: The Essentials; Archaeological Geomatics.

0.2.4 Scholar's Programme Tutor

The Brilliant Club, UK 2021

- Delivered university-style course How to Make a Museum to two groups of KS2 pupils. Course considered the purpose and origin of museums, museum and archaeological ethics, and featured a range of museological and archaeological case studies.

- Placement required completion of training modules with skills relevant to both to school and university-level teaching.

0.2.5 Support Worker

Summercare, Westcliff-on-Sea, Essex, UK 2017-2020

- Support worker position working with adults with learning disabilities in supported living and day centre settings. The role incorporated working as a part of a diverse team and engaging with policy to meet Service Users' assessed needs, respecting their dignity, supporting their independence and encouraging inclusion within the local community.
- Day-to-day duties included assisting Service Users with personal care, preparation of food, cleaning and maintenance, administration of medication and participation in a wide range of social activities designed to support their autonomy.
- The role required flexibility, often working unsociable hours and supporting the team by filling shortfalls when necessary.

0.2.6 Field Archaeologist

Cambridge Archaeological Unit, University of Cambridge, UK 2019

- Excavation, recording of data, drawing, photography, sampling, finds identification and recovery, implementation of and compliance with health and safety policy. Experience driving company vehicles.

0.2.7 Trainee Archaeologist

Cotswold Archaeology, Milton Keynes, UK 2018-2019

- Successfully completed full trainee programme plus development log which demonstrates competency in all areas of excavation, the recording of investigation data, drawing, photography, the taking and reducing of levels, sampling, finds identification and recovery, GPS survey and Leica Captivate system, implementation of and compliance with health and safety policy. Manual handling, fire awareness, asbestos awareness and CAT & Genny training received. Experience driving company vehicles.

0.2.8 Customer Assistant

Marks and Spencer, Oxford, UK 2017-2018

Marks and Spencer, Fosse Park, Leicester, UK 2016-2017

- In this role I had a number of responsibilities, including restocking, store presentation, serving and advising customers and handling monies. This was a fast paced retail environment which required immense adaptability, as no two days were the same. A role centred on providing members of the public with a positive experience, I was able to utilise my interpersonal skills to create a pleasant environment both for the customers and amongst a large, diverse and consistently shifting team.

0.2.9 Hospitality Team Member

Cliffs Pavilion Theatre, Westcliff-on-Sea, Essex, UK 2013

- This was a customer service role, centred around working the main bar, serving drinks and food in the daytime and drinks in the evening. Also required shifts in the on-site restaurant as part of formal dinner services and shows. Duties included food and drink preparation, serving, restocking, taking inventories and handling monies in a high demand bar/restaurant environment which required constant adaptability and enthusiasm. As a role which was centred on interaction with customers and event management, I was able to exercise my excellent interpersonal skills and remained fervently punctual, skills vital in working as part of a large team.

Research Placements

0.3.1 Curatorial Placement, Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts

Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, UEA, Norwich, UK 2023-2024

- Undertook a six month placement through my PhD programme at the Sainsbury Centre in Norwich. In this placement I helped research and deliver a six-month exhibition season called "What is Truth?", particularly focused on two exhibitions within this, focused on the work of artist Jeffrey Gibson and an exhibition titled Liquid Gender, which examined fluid gender identities, and indigenous and afro-futurism.

Archaeological Fieldwork Experience

0.4.1 Rebun Island Field School, Hokkaido, Japan Graduate Volunteer

2018 - Focused on the excavation of a multi-period hunter-gatherer site in the Sea of Japan with occupation from the Jomon to Historical Ainu period. Incorporated excavation, dumpy level survey, hand planning, section recording and identification of finds.

0.4.2 Ardnamurchan Transitions Project, Scotland, Field School Participant

2016 - Focused upon excavation of an Iron Age dun and test-pitting across the wider landscape. Incorporated excavation, total station and GPS survey, hand planning, section recording and identification of ceramics, metals and bone.

0.4.3 Applied Archaeology International Internship, Alaska, USA Intern

2016 - Indigenous archaeology internship focusing on collaborative, community-based archaeology, non-invasive survey and recording techniques at an Alaska Native winter village site. Mapping and survey work with the US Forest Service. Post-excavation work and the handling/preparation of radiocarbon and DNA samples.

0.4.4 Mohegan Field School, Connecticut, USA Field School Participant

2015 - Indigenous archaeology field school focusing on the collaborative excavation of a 17th/18th century Native American homestead. Incorporated excavation, survey, planning, recording and identification of metals, ceramics, bone and post-excavation work.

0.4.5 Apolline Project, Naples, Italy Volunteer

2014 - Excavation of a Late Antique Roman villa near Mount Vesuvius.

0.4.6 Burrough Hill Project, Leicestershire, UK Field School Participant

2014 - First year undergraduate field school at Burrough Hill Iron Age hillfort.

Awards

0.5.1 Samuel and Rachel May Prize, University of Leicester

2017 - For highest grade in Archaeology in my graduating year.

0.5.2 Leicester Award, University of Leicester

2014-15 - Delivered an oral presentation and completed a career development portfolio. Enhanced my communication, teamwork, planning, organising, research, self-management and digital skills.

Committees

0.6.1 School of Archaeology and Ancient History Wednesday Seminar Team, University of Leicester

2020-2021 - Role comprised organising and hosting online seminars during the 2020–2021 academic year.

0.6.2 University of Leicester Ancient History and Archaeology Society President

2016–2017 - Organisation and supervision of events, online and face-to-face advertising and liaison with external companies. Leadership of a committee. Used my skills and passion for archaeology to create an active and supportive community for fellow students.

0.6.3 University of Leicester Ancient History and Archaeology Society Publicity Officer

2014-2015 - Role creating and managing social media posts and advertisements for society events.

Conferences and Presentations

0.7.1 Theoretical Archaeology Group Conference 2022, University of Edinburgh Session Organiser

12/2022 - Co-organising session with Jonny Graham (University of Leicester) entitled: Productive not reductive: An archaeological exploration of different differences.

0.7.2 Theoretical Archaeology Group Conference 2021, University of Leicester/Antiquity Session Manager

12/2021 - Assisted with the organisation and running of TAG 2021, including being the admin liaison for several sessions.

0.7.3 Graduate Archaeology at Oxford Conference

03/2018 - Delivered paper: "Embracing chaos: the rhizome and negotiation of interpretative conflict in Indigenous archaeology".

0.7.4 Graduate Seminar, St. Peter's College, Oxford

03/2018 - Delivered paper: "Empowering Youth in Cultural Heritage Management: A Case Study from the Kenai Peninsula, Alaska".

Publications

0.8.1 2019

- Guilfoyle, D.R., Carey, G., Rogers, A.J., Bernard, M., & Willoya-Williams, R. 2019. Empowering Tribal Youth in Cultural Heritage Management: A Case Study from the Kenai Peninsula, Alaska. Archaeologies 15(1): p.42–63.

Languages

- Spanish (B2)
- Italian (B2)

References

Available on request.